 We started thinking about including charitable gifts in our estate plan several years ago. It's something [my late husband] John and I felt strongly about. It felt very natural and comfortable for us.

I believe in the work Family Promise does and want to continue to support it.

THE VALUE OF A HOME

When COVID hit, Dave and Melissa Matthews*, long-time volunteers at Family Promise of Santa Clarita Valley, CA, predicted a housing crisis. They looked to their donor-advised fund as a resource to help families in need.

"We expected a lot of people would lose their homes," explains Melissa. "We decided to keep the fund liquid so we could access it quickly."

They used their DAF to purchase a home to serve as a Family Promise shelter site when the pandemic rendered traditional homeless shelters unsafe. The Matthews appreciate the tax deductions associated with a DAF but especially like the flexibility it offers when it comes to philanthropy.

"The DAF gives us time to easily distribute gifts to charities as needs arise," Dave says.
